

Resolution

Whereas, Connecticut Insurance Commissioner Thomas B. Leonardi will depart his post leaving an impressive legacy of thoughtful leadership among the insurance community, and the State of Connecticut's insurance-buying public, having brought to the job a profound and unflagging dedication to protecting and invigorating the State's insurance industry, and its position as the Insurance Capital Of The World; and

Whereas, the industry and public benefited from Mr. Leonardi's focus and impact on the industry's preservation and growth and its manifold beneficial effects on the State's economy;

Whereas, his work to improve insurance policy for the people of Connecticut in every sector of the industry is reflected in a multitude of successes, including numerous consumer protection measures, the creation and expansion of various insurance businesses and increased public outreach, visibility and consumer education; and

Whereas, under his leadership, the department and the State's insurance community benefitted from his own flagship position in National Association of Insurance Commissioners, through which he advanced the State's role as the best regulator of insurance, and on the international level as he assumed the leading voice among U.S. insurance regulators on international systemic risk designations, having been the sole U.S. regulator on the IAIS' Financial Stability Committee for three years;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the Professional Insurance Agents of Connecticut Inc., does hereby commend with appreciation for his intrepid and resolute endeavors on behalf of the industry and the State of Connecticut's insurance-buying public.

Thomas B. Leonardi

December 11, 2014